So many are obtained in this and other ways that specimens of ichthyosaurs are perhaps more frequently seen in the museums of the world than those of any other extinct backboned animal. Fairly complete skeletons may now be purchased of dealers in such things for from fifty to seventy-five dollars. As may be supposed, the best and most complete collections of these fossil remains are those of the British Museum in London and the museum in Stuttgart. From a study of those of the last-mentioned museum Professor Fraas has learned many interesting facts and reached many interesting conclusions regarding the life-habits of the ichthyosaurs. In the accompanying figure (Fig. 59) is shown a photographic reproduction of a very complete specimen, in which not only is the outline of the whole...
